

Brian Holle, Co-Owner EASYstreet Realty

Brian possesses exceptional experience in real estate sales with more than 15 years of experience and over $130 million in sales. In 1993, he started his career as a salesperson for Crossmann Communities (Beazer Homes). In his first year, he was awarded “Rookie of the Year” as the most outstanding new salesperson. Over the next seven years he was a top producer with Crossmann, winning top honors as a “Top Gun”, their exceptional salesperson and leader.

Brian is the principal broker in Indianapolis-Lafayette, Indiana, and Charlotte, North Carolina. He is a member of the Metro Indianapolis Board of Realtors, the Lafayette Board of Realtors, North Carolina Board of Realtors, National Association of Realtors, National Association of Home Builders, Indiana Builders Association and Las Vegas Builders Association

Chris Kukelhan, Co-Owner EASYstreet Realty

Chris has exemplified entrepreneurialship over the last 12 years. In 1993, he designed and developed a product for the retail sporting goods industry. Within 24 months he had grossed $1 million in sales. Chris was named “Who’s Who in Entrepreneurs” in 1996 as well as “Who’s Who in International Executives” in the same year.

Seven years later he became one on Beazer Home’s finest sales people. He consistently won the top sales associate honor for the company and sold 280 homes in just less than two years.

Among his many affiliations are the National Association of Home Builders, Indiana Builders Association, Las Vegas Builders Association, National Association of Realtors and Metro Indianapolis Board of Realtors.

Steve Robbins, Co-Owner EASYstreet Realty

Steve possesses tremendous experience in management, mortgage financing and home sales. His career started in 1993 in operations management with Drug Plastics, where his team set corporate marks in productivity and quality levels. He continued in operations management with National City Bank, where he pioneered a self-directed work team initiative. In 1997, he moved on to Crossmann Mortgage Corp., originating new construction home loans.

In 1998, Steve transferred to new home sales with Crossmann Communities (Beazer Homes) and became a regular top producer with over 200 sales in his final year with the builder.

Steve won the Indianapolis area MAME award for “Rookie Realtor of the Year” in 2001, his first full year as Owner/Broker of EASYstreet Realty. He is a broker in both Indiana and Nevada. He is a member of the National Association of Home Builders, Indiana Builders Association, Las Vegas Builders Association, National Association of Realtors and Metro Indianapolis Board of Realtors.